

Dear Parent,

Thank you for joining In2Books®, brought to you by ePals, Inc. (ePals).

You and your child will have fun reading books and discussing them through In2Books®. Because your child or children may be under the age of 13, the law requires that we obtain your permission for your child to participate in In2Books® and for us to collect and store certain information about your child or children. Use of your credit card in connection with your purchase of an In2Books® subscription, or as part of registration for the Summer Reading version of In2Books, or by calling our toll-free parental consent line will serve as your consent.

ePals is committed to protecting children's online privacy. Here's how we do that:

- Parental Consent: We do not allow anyone under 13 years of age to join on their own.
- Personal Information: We do not collect personally identifiable information from anyone under 13 years of age without a parent or guardian's consent.
- Your Choice of ePal: Your child can become an online ePal (pen pal) with a grownup of your choice—a grandparent, aunt, uncle, cousin or even you—so your child will exchange online letters only with someone whom you choose and approve.
- We Collect Minimal Information: Even after we obtain parental or guardian consent, we do not collect more personal information about children than is required to participate in an activity while visiting our site.
- Our Use of Information: We use the information we collect to provide an interactive online experience, to send newsletters, to make reading recommendations, to provide educational content that we believe that your child may be interested in or would benefit from, and to fulfill requests for products or services.
- Protecting Your Child's Privacy: We endeavor to monitor our online forums in order to remove personally identifiable information when we see it.

PARENTAL CONSENT

For a complete description of the information we collect from children, how we use that information, and what information we share with third parties, please click here. I understand that I have the right to review the information ePals has collected about my children, and that I can later revoke my consent by sending a detailed request, including your name, your In2Books username, and your child's name(s) via the "Contact Us" page located on our website.

By providing and authorizing ePals to credit my credit card, or by calling the toll-free parental consent line, I am giving permission for my child or children to participate in In2Books®, including participating in bulletin boards, blogs and exchanging letters with my child's pen pal. My child can receive e-mail messages from ePals about the service, and receive future offers from ePals based on his or her preferences, as well as promotional updates about site and service content.

If you have any questions regarding In2Books® or if you would like to speak with us about your children's privacy, please contact us at support@in2books.com:
